Representative Class Action Settlements:

Sevier v. Time Warner Cable. The Katriel Law Firm was lead counsel in this successful settlement of an antitrust class action brought on behalf of millions of subscribers of Time Warner Cable high-speed Internet service. The complaint alleged that the defendants unlawfully tied the sale of their subscription service to the leasing of a cable modem device from defendants. After zealous and successful litigation by The Katriel Law Firm, which included litigation before the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, the district court entered its final order approving a class action settlement benefiting the class.

Holliday v.Volkswagen of America, The Katriel Law Firm was lead counsel in this successful settlement of a product liability class action brought on behalf of owners and lessees of thousands of Volkswagen Jetta automobiles who alleged that the electric seat heaters in the vehicles were defective. After successful litigation by The Katriel Law Firm in federal district court, the court issued its final order approving the class action settlement.

King v. The Home Depot. The Katriel Law Firm successfully settled this class action case in which plaintiffs alleged that Home Depot, Inc. deceptively allocated consumers' account payments in its "no payment no interest" store credit card. After successful litigation by The Katriel Law Firm in federal court, and by other plaintiffs' firms in various state courts, this matter was settled as part of a nationwide class action settlement that benefited the class.

Park v. The Thomson Corp., The Katriel Law Firm was lead counsel in this antitrust class action brought on behalf of hundreds of thousands of consumers of BAR/BRI bar examination preparation courses. The case alleged antitrust claims for tying and monopolization. After successful litigation in which The Katriel Law Firm was successful in defeating defendants' motion for summary judgment and in obtaining partial summary judgment in plaintiff's favor, a class action settlement was reached and approved by the court.

Schipaanboord v. Volkswagen of America, The Katriel Law Firm was lead counsel in this consumer product liability class action, which alleged defects in the 2000-2003 model year Volkswagen Passats for their undue propensity to catch fire. After successful litigation by The Katriel Law Firm, a class action settlement was reached that provided meaningful relief to all class members.

Conroy v. The 3M Corp., The Katriel Law Firm was co-lead counsel in this consumer federal antitrust class action that alleged that the defendant monopolized the U.S. market for clear and transparent tape for home and office use. After prolonged litigation, including an appeal to the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit in which The Katriel Law Firm was lead counsel who argued the appeal, a multi-million class action settlement was reached and approved by the court.

Franz, Inc. v. Quantum Corp., The Katriel Law Firm was lead counsel in this consumer antitrust class action that alleged that the defendants violated the Cartwright Act and California's Unfair Competition Law, stemming from their alleged conspiracy to restrain trade in the market for Digital Linear Technology Tapes. After successfully obtaining class certification, The Katriel Law Firm negotiated a multi-million class action settlement that was approved by the court.

Tawfilis v. Allergan, Inc., The Katriel Law Firm was lead Class Counsel in this antitrust class action brought against the manufacturer of Botox, the market leading botulinum toxin for aesthetic use. The action involved an international practice with depositions in Ireland, Spain, and the United Kingdom. The Katriel Law Firm secured class certification of a nationwide class and later negotiated a multi-million dollar, nationwide class settlement that the court approved.

Villa v. San Francisco Forty-Niners, Ltd., The Katriel Law Firm was lead Class Counsel on this antitrust case brought against over thirty named defendant NFL teams, the NFL, and Reebok, a international apparel manufacturer. The Katriel Law Firm secured class certification and negotiated a multi-million dollar class settlement that was approved by the court.

Williams v. Apple, Inc., The Katriel Law Firm was lead Class Counsel in this breach of contract class action that alleged Apple breached the terms of its iCloud cloud storage agreement with paying subscribers of the iCloud service. The Katriel Law Firm secured class certification in one of the last class certification opinions authored by the Honorable Lucy H. Koh before her elevation to the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit. The Katriel Law Firm negotiated a nationwide multi-million dollar class settlement that the court approved.

In re USC COVID-19 Tuition And Fee Refund Litig., The Katriel Law Firm was appointed Co-Lead Counsel to lead this ongoing class litigation on behalf of USC students seeking refunds of tuition and fees they paid to the university during a time when the university stopped providing campus access or in-person education.

Seifi v. Mercedes-Benz USA, LLC, The Katriel Law Firm was lead Class Counsel in this product liability class action against an international automobile manufacturer. The Katriel Law Firm secured class certification and negotiated a nationwide class settlement that entailed, inter alia, a nationwide repair campaign by the defendant automobile manufacturer.
